CLEARPATH ACTION STATEMENT ON AMERICA'S ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERSHIP REMARKS

WASHINGTON, DC -- On Monday, July 8, 2019 ClearPath Action Executive Director Rich Powell, who attended President Donald Trump's remarks on America's Environmental Leadership made the following statement.

"It's certainly encouraging to see the administration embracing clean energy solutions such as advanced nuclear and carbon capture technologies that will enable the private sector to continue leading with innovation," ClearPath Action Executive Director Rich Powell said. "For example, the '45Q' tax credit signed by the President last year is a huge deal leading to carbon capture innovations at natural gas and coal power plants. And investments in research and design on advanced nuclear technologies will be commercially ready within a decade. These technologies will be marketed and sold around the world and will not only help our economy but ultimately help lower emissions globally."
